Knight Frank Property Search now available on the App Store

Knight Frank, the leading independent global property consultancy, today announced that its Knight Frank Property Search App is now available from the App Store. The app enables users to search across more than 6,000 of the world's best properties for sale or rent using their iPhone or iPod touch.

The Knight Frank Property Search App has been developed as part of the evolution of Knight Frank's award winning online Global Residential Search, in recognition of the many media through which Knight Frank's clients instigate their property searches.

Patrick Ramsay, head of Residential, Knight Frank, said: "The Knight Frank App is a mobile window to more than 6,000 of the best properties around the world. It is part of our integrated global coverage giving immediate access to our international network of more than 200 offices in over 34 countries. The quality of properties are reproduced beautifully giving an extraordinary and effective way of showcasing houses on iPhone and iPod touch."

Jason Leven, partner, web development manager, Knight Frank, said: "We have extended our award winning Global Residential Search to help iPhone and iPod touch users around the world find the highest quality property available. Using location-based services users can find their nearest property regardless of where they currently are. It only takes one tap to search for all properties that match a chosen lifestyle like water views, skiing, equestrian, golfing, vineyards or sporting properties around the world. If you find a property you like you can save it, email it to a friend or even publish it directly to Facebook®. It couldn't be easier or more fun to browse the best local or global properties on the move."

Features:

- Search by lifestyle such as water views, vineyards, ski, golf and equestrian.
- Integrated global residential property search by country, region or postcode.
- Locate nearest properties for sale or rent using the global GPS search function.
- View images, floor plans and full brochures.
- Save favourite property searches for future use.
- E-mail results to friends and family or link properties to Facebook.
